I wonder what might be the reasons students are below expectations, and what if I made these changes to improve the outcomes? Please only consider the changes you have control over. Are additional resources needed? If so, please describe using the Resource Request link.	Reflection	Anonymous	I wonder if the reason students are below expectations is because they do not have a clear understanding of the directions they have been given and they are to afraid to voice that they need more direction. What if they were to practice the instructions piece by piece before putting the whole critique together?	2017-05-26

Reflection	Anonymous	I wonder if a few students are below expectations in this class is because they had excessive absences and/or did not practice the techniques. What if more class time was devoted to skill and technique practice?	2017-05-26

I can send the students more reminders by message and email that their papers are due. I enjoy seeing what the students personal choice is for the ad. I might have to send them jpgs of ads that they could analyze, if they don't have access to magazines. My reminder should suggest they visit the college library and use that as a magazine resource. I can also add a prerequisite of completing the written paper assignment before they proceed to the exam.	2017-05-19

Reflection	Anonymous	The students who failed either did not show up to class or did not turn in major assignments. Furthermore, I gave students the chance to turn in assignments late for a reduced grade. I was fairly satisfied with my other students, although I believe creating fill-in study guides may be helpful for the future.	2017-06-26

Are additional resources needed? If so, please describe using the Resource Request link.	Reflection	Anonymous	A couple of students did not complete the compare contrast research assignment. For the past 2 semesters I do have students do a posting assignment where they must use the TC Library online databases to find some fact about an artist which is not included in the text or other assigned reading material. I do that to give them some practice on using the databases. So, theoretically, by the 12th week in the semester they should feel comfortable in doing the research for this. It is just now occurring to me that perhaps the reason that they do not do the assignment is insecurity either about their writing skills. This assignment is due the 14th week, which is too late for me to individually recommend that they work with a tutor. And, this needs to be due late in the semester because they need to have some foundation knowledge about the course content to do the critical thinking and evaluation. And, the reason that they do not do the assignment might be that they have already earned enough points for their target letter grade and just do not want to put forth the effort.	2017-05-19

Reflection	Anonymous	This is curious because both student who did not do this comparison contrast research paper assignment did complete all of the posting assignments. Several of those assignments also asked for the student to analyze and evaluate works of art at museum websites. Both students passed the course, without attempting this assignment so I am wondering which caused me to speculate that for their own personal reasons they chose to not do the assignment. If they were juggling jobs with school work, there can be a major time crunch at the end of the semester. Yet, to make this assignment due earlier in the term does not make sense because they need to have enough foundation knowledge and practice in observing works of art in order to succeed in this assignment.	2017-05-21
